William Kantsios is a native Atlantan and the son of one of the original founders of this organization. He holds a bachelor's degree from Kennesaw State University, with a focus in both Finance and Applied Statistics & Data Analysis. William began his professional career in the Financial Services Industry where he worked in the Enterprise Risk Management of a Fintech corporation, managing the underwriting procedure for the financial instruments and loan-products in the portfolio. He currently works for the Global Brand & Product Development division of The Home Depot, the largest home improvement retailer in North America, with more than 2,300 stores across the U.S., Canada, and Mexico. In this role, his primary focus is supporting the Merchants in Merchandising FP&A and Supply Chain Finance.

William was raised in and still an active member of the Annunciation Cathedral Greek Orthodox Church of Atlanta, GA. He is an active participant in the church, volunteering annually at the Atlanta Greek Festival as well as other opportunities. He also coaches basketball at various levels, including in the Greek community for both the youth leagues and GOYA teams.

William grew up participating in AHEPA events since he was a kid, typically accompanying his parents to conventions throughout the early years. He officially began his 18-year AHEPA journey with the Son's of Pericles in 2005 and is still an active member of the Chapter #1 organization supporting the Atlanta community. He joined the AHEPA Mother Lodge Chapter No.1 Educational Fund board in 2013, where he served as a member of the Finance Committee. He has been the Treasurer of the organization beginning in 2019 and now heads the Finance & Investment Committee, consisting of four members. During his time with the foundation, the fund has grown 102% and he has played an integral role in overhauling the accounting systems and procedures.
